If there are several players with the same score in the final ranking, then the following further decision criteria will apply: most correct results, most correct goal differences, fewest number of tips given.

Game rules for groups (countries, universities, ...)

To be included in the ranking, at least 10 players in a group must have submitted tips.

Every single tip made by a single player for a single game in a group counts. Games without tips do not count.

An average is calculated for each game and all averages of all game days are then added to the overall rating.

If there are several groups with the same score in the final ranking, then the following further decision criteria apply: most correct results, most correct goal differences, lowest number of tips given.
